

Millions of children around the world never get the opportunity to take part in quality sports programs and reap the many healthy physical and emotional benefits that participation provides.

Shortages of quality equipment, poor and unsafe playing facilities, and lack of well-structured programming have contributed to a rather bleak global sports landscape.

The Global Gear Drive was created to put equipment in the hands of children and smiles on their faces through physical activity.

To make this happen, we need your help. We are collecting and distributing used youth sports equipment to children around the globe. While our initial focus is on soccer, basketball, and baseball, equipment from any sport will be accepted. So if you have any balls, bats, gloves, or protective equipment that is going unused, why not help?

NAYS will reimburse you for all shipping costs. Make a difference. Contribute today!
